

UPGRADING LEGACY EMAIL DEFENCES AT G MODIANO

"I am really pleased with our investment; I think the solution is great and for the first time our users are engaged in cyber security and their part in keeping the business safe"

Perry Willis, Head of IT, G Modiano

BACKGROUND OF G MODIANO

G Modiano are a Managed Print customer of 8 years, and also leveraged Xeretec's expertise to explore and invest in a Unified Communication solution.

The conversation moved to cyber security as G Modiano noticed their existing email gateway was not adequate enough protection against more advanced email threats. This was leaving the business exposed to greater risk of a successful cyber breach as users had more chance of falling victim to a malicious attack that bypassed their traditional defences.

WHY EGRESS?

Egress provided real-time training with contextual banners and human risk scores, making employees feel part of keeping the company safe

Egress requires very little intervention from IT & the solution is largely self-sufficient

Egress was coming up as a cost effective option against competitors

WHAT WAS THE GOAL?

- Investment in advanced email protection that could be layered on top of their existing gateway
- Effective and engaging user awareness training as past video courses had proven to be unsuccessful and a waste of money
- A solution that wouldn't flag lots of false positives or be too intrusive for users
